List the nominee's educational background (institutions, degrees, years, and honors at graduation, if any).

6. Criteria for Outstanding Technical Record

Explain to what extent the nominee fulfills each of the following four criteria, and give evidence of an outstanding record in the general area of computer science and engineering. This includes introducing practical or theoretical advances in high performance computing systems.

(a) Documenting Evidence

Provide evidence of an outstanding record and/or introducing practical or theoretical advances in the area of computer science and engineering and high performance computing systems.

(b) Publications

List publications or references to the nominee's published or professional work.

(c) Technological Advancements

Provide evidence of leading or developing significant technological advancements in computer science and engineering and high performance computing systems. (Be sure to identify the contribution in full as well as its significance and scope in advancing this area of computer science.)

(d) Stature Among Peers

Provide evidence that the nominee has achieved stature as a practitioner, manager, or researcher of renown in this area, to include involvement in the development of commercial products.

7. Other Factors

If pertinent, list any additional information the selection committee should review that has not already been documented on the nomination form. This information should further identify the outstanding record of the nominee and contribute in elucidating the magnitude of the nominee's accomplishments in the area of computer science and engineering.

8. Endorsements

This award requires three endorsements

Endorser's contact information includes: Last Name, First Name, & Email address.

9. Upload a file

Nominators have the option to upload a document to submit an attachment. The attachment must include responses to all nomination questions for the award.
