CALL FOR PAPERS

CALL FOR PAPERS

Computer Magazine is looking for papers and articles that survey important developments across the breadth of the field, describe particular developments from a tutorial point of view, or explore application areas. The following special issues are being organized: Human Factors in Software Engineering, Backward Storage Networks, Fault-Tolerant Computing, Machine Perception for Industrial Applications, Computers and Education, Adaptable Architectures, and Computer Systems Performance Modeling. Submit four copies of a manuscript, including illustrations and references, to our technical editor, Dr. Portia Isaacson, Electronic Data Systems, 7171 Forest Lane, Dallas, TX 75230; (214) 661-6241.

20th Annual Symposium on Foundations of Computer Science: October 29-31, 1979, San Juan, Puerto Rico. Papers describing original research in the theoretical aspects of computer science are sought on topics such as algorithms; automata and formal languages; computational complexity; data structures and data bases; formal semantics; mathematics of computation; theory of parallel and asynchronous computation; and computer systems and networks. Send eight copies of a detailed abstract by May 16, 1979, to Prof. S. Rao Kosaraju, Dept. of EE, The Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, MD 21218.

12th Annual Asilomar Conference on Circuits, Systems, and Computers: November 5-7, Pacific Grove, California. Papers are invited in the areas of signal processing, control, circuits, and computers. Send three copies of a 50- to 100-word abstract and a summary by July 1, 1979, to Roger C. Wood, Electrical and Computer Engineering Dept., University of California, Santa Barbara, CA 93106; (805) 961-3518.

13th Annual Asilomar Conference on Circuits, Systems, and Computers: November 5-7, Pacific Grove, California. Papers are invited in the areas of signal processing, control, circuits, and computers. Send three copies of a 50- to 100-word abstract and a summary by July 1, 1979, to Roger C. Wood, Electrical and Computer Engineering Dept., University of California, Santa Barbara, CA 93106; (805) 961-3518.

17th Annual Allerton Conference on Communication, Control, and Computing: October 10-12, 1979, Monticello, Illinois. Regular and short papers are solicited. Submit by July 31, 1979, to Allerton Conference, c/o Prof. J. B. Cruz, Jr., Coordinated Science Lab, University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign, Urbana, IL 61801.

EUROCON '80 (IEEE et al.): March 24-28, 1980, Stuttgart, Germany. Papers are solicited on the conference theme, "From Electronics to Microelectronics." Submit three copies of a 500-word abstract by July 31, 1979, to Prof. Dr. W. A. Kaiser, University of Stuttgart, Breitscheidstrasse 2, D-7000 Stuttgart 1, Germany.

Computer Magazine: January 1980 special issue on Computer Education and the Use of Computers in Education. Send four copies of manuscript by August 1, 1979, to Dr. David C. Rine, QIS, Suite 447 Stipes, Western Illinois University, Macomb, IL 61455; (309) 298-1315.

MIMI-80: January 30-February 1, 1980, Pacific Grove, California. Papers on microcomputers and their applications are solicited. Send three copies of a 200-word, camera-ready abstract by September 1, 1979, to Secretary, MIMI-80, PO Box 2841, Anaheim, CA 92804.

IECA '80, Sixth Annual Conference and Exhibit on Industrial and Control Applications of Microprocessors (IEEE et al.): March 17-19, 1980, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. Submit ten copies of a 500- to 600-word extended summary and a 40-word abstract by September 14, 1979, to H. T. Nagle, Jr., EE Dept., Auburn University, Auburn, AL 36830; (205) 826-4330.

IFIP Congress 80, Eighth World Computer Congress: Tokyo, Japan, October 6-9, 1980 and Melbourne, Australia, October 14-17, 1980. Deadline for papers is December 1, 1979. For details contact Program Committee, IFIP Foundation, 40 Paulus Pottersstraat, 1071 DB Amsterdam, The Netherlands.
