1982 REGION 6 CONFERENCE
WITH A HIGH-VOLTAGE WORKSHOP
"A MICRO COSM OF ELECTRICAL/ELECTRONIC TOPICS"

February 16-19, 1982; The Inn-At-The Park; 1855 S. Harbor Blvd, Anaheim

We invite you and your guests to attend this conference located just 500 feet south of the "Happiest Place on Earth" (Disneyland Park). This Conference will present high-technology papers, plenty of session speakers covering broad electronics topics, timely sessions on professional topics of interest to all engineers/managers, and concurrently electronics exhibits. The luncheon speakers will present authoritative and useful discussions of subjects of great value to our technical communities. The U.S. Solar System Program and Technology Management for Industrial Electronics Markets. Of interest to all ages, a pseudo-technology audiovisual presentation will be provided by the 1982 Disneyland Ambassador on "Building a Magic Kingdom," describing a wonderful world of fantasy and illusions.

The High-Voltage Workshop program is presented with major participation by the Defense Advanced Research Projects Agency (DARPA). The keynote address in Session I-HVS-1 will be given by Lt. Col. R. Benedict, DARPA DEO, Arlington, Va.

The Ladies Hospitality Suite will be open in Directors Suite 107-108 throughout the Conference, where tours, visitors information, refreshments, and congenial company may be enjoyed by Conference family members.
