SCOPE
The scope of this conference encompasses the technical aspects of specifying, designing, implementing, and evaluating distributed computing systems. In such systems, there is a multiplicity of interconnected processing resources able to cooperate under system-wide control on a single problem with minimal reliance on centralized procedures, data, or hardware. The location of computing resources may span the spectrum from physical adjacency to geographical dispersion. The topics of interest include the following aspects of distributed computing systems:

- ARCHITECTURES
- OPERATING SYSTEMS & LANGUAGES
- DISTRIBUTED DATABASES
- NETWORKS
- FAULT TOLERANCE
- APPLICATIONS

The 4th International Conference on
DISTRIBUTED COMPUTING SYSTEMS
San Francisco, California • May 14-18, 1984
CALL FOR PAPERS

PAPER SUBMISSION REQUIREMENTS
Four copies of the manuscript should be submitted to the Program Chairman by Sept. 5, 1983. The conference language is English and papers are restricted to 6 IEEE model pages (about 20 double-spaced pages) including figures. Each copy must contain a 150 word abstract. A submission letter must accompany the paper that indicates which of the above areas is most relevant to your paper and contains a commitment to present the paper at the conference if accepted. In case of multiple authors, an indication of which author is responsible for correspondence and preparing the camera-ready paper for the proceedings should be included. Authors will be notified of acceptance by Dec. 30, 1983 and will be given instructions for final preparation of their papers at that time.

AWARDS
Monetary prizes will be awarded at the conference for outstanding papers. Additionally, plans are being made for special issues of appropriate journals.

TUTORIALS
In addition to papers, proposals for one day tutorials are solicited in any of the above areas. Such proposals should be submitted to the Tutorial Chairman by June 1, 1983. The authors of accepted proposals will be asked to submit complete tutorial texts by Sept. 5, 1983.

EXHIBITS
There is space available for commercial exhibits. For an exhibitor's brochure and further details contact the exhibits chairman.
