A MESSAGE FROM THE CHAIR

As the end of 2008 draws near, our combined online and offline presence in many of our activities continues to grow. Our participation at the International Conference on Computer-Aided Design (IC-CAD) remains strong. Our website keeps improving and is moving to a new simple-to-find location: http://www.datc.info. Please refer to this website for all DATC information.

Our online newsletter includes unique summaries of emerging conferences around the world, first-view opinions on emerging and technology-market topics, and summaries of our own meetings and events. Please see more details at http://www.datc.info/news.htm. There are instructions at the end of this web page if you’d like to submit contributions. We look forward to receiving more of them!

Finally, our collaboration with the IEEE Computer Society and the Council on Electronic Design Automation (CEDA) remains strong. In fact, we are helping CEDA with a new worldwide chip design certification program and with emerging online activities. See http://www.c-eda.org for more details. We look forward to even more exciting times ahead, as our sustained level of activity in 2008 sets the stage for new opportunities in 2009.
