Thanks to IEEE MultiMedia’s Reviewers

Many colleagues have assisted the IEEE MultiMedia Editorial Board in the article review and selection process. By offering their time and talent, reviewers provide a valuable service to this publication. The Editors in Chief realize that this type of professional service, while absolutely necessary, doesn’t receive the much-deserved recognition. Whereas reviewers’ efforts on individual articles are performed under the cover of confidentiality, we thank them all here publicly for their efforts during 2005.
