

Thanks to IEEE MultiMedia's Reviewers

Many colleagues have assisted the IEEE MultiMedia Editorial Board in the article review and selection process. By offering their time and talent, reviewers provide a valuable service to this publication. The Editor in Chief realizes that this type of professional service, while absolutely necessary, doesn't receive much-deserved recognition. Whereas reviewers' efforts on individual articles are performed under the cover of confidentiality, I publicly thank them here for their efforts during 2006.
