Welcome from the Program Co-chairs
ICAIS 2009

ICAIS 2009 is the First Edition of the International Conference on Adaptive Intelligent Systems Design and Applications, held in Klagenfurt, Austria, on September 24–26, 2009, that, we wish, will play an important role as a gathering place for a growing research and scholarly community of broadly perceived intelligent systems.

ICAIS 2009 is an attempt to provide a forum for the presentation of new results and developments and a forum for vivid discussions among specialists from diverse areas and diverse countries. We hope that new ideas and novel projects will emerge as a result.

ICAIS 2009 has received about 66 submissions from 38 countries around the world, which have been subject to a rigorous and tough peer review process. All papers have been refereed by, at least, two independent referees. Based on the referees’ reports, the Program Committee has selected 29 full papers.

The plenary talks will be focused on crucial topics that have been recently attracting much attention, and will be presented by outstanding experts from the area. We believe all participants will enjoy and benefit from their lecture.

It is a privilege and honor for us to chair the ICAIS 2009 Program Committee. It has been also a rewarding experience and we express our sincere thanks to all the Program Committee members for their cooperation in the shaping of the conference and running the refereeing process. We highly appreciate the hard work and timely feedback of the referees who did an excellent job. Last but not least, we would like to thank all the authors and participants for their interest in ICAIS 2009. Thank you for your time and effort in preparing and submitting your papers and your patience through the long process. Your work is the backbone of this conference.

We wish you all a pleasant and fruitful meeting in the city of Klagenfurt, Austria.
