I am very glad to invite you all to our prestigious university which is hosting an International Conference on Intelligent Computing Applications ICICA 2014. As we are in the knowledge era where, computing technology has made our life comfortable and has become a part of our life. The conference provides a common platform for the budding researchers, guests, speakers and delegates to share their expertise and research outcomes.

Being the Chief Patron of ICICA 2014, I feel very proud that this international conference would enhance and elevate the computing applications era to a higher level. The conference has evinced a good score of around 450 papers received from the researchers who carry out research in the coveted areas of research. The hallmark of this conference is best brought out by selecting the papers for IEEE digital library archival. This speaks the voluminous planning and execution meticulously done by the team of Dr. T. Devi, Convener - ICICA 2014, Dr. V. Bhuvaneswari and Dr. T. Amudha, Conference Chairs - ICICA 2014 and faculty of Department of Computer Applications in arranging this conference to come true. I congratulate the team.

I welcome all the participants to ICICA 2014 and wish them a fruitful knowledge sharing.
