I am delighted to note that Department of Computer Applications of our university is hosting an International Conference on Intelligent Computing Applications ICICA 2014. The conference will address the latest trends in computer technologies. The outcome of the conference will help the budding researchers for knowledge sharing, for promoting their research, and bringing up the computer world to a next generation. I hope that the deliberations made at International Conference on Intelligent Computing Applications will be fruitful and purposeful and will help in identifying and fulfilling the knowledge thirst. I congratulate Dr. T. Devi, Convener - ICICA 2014, Dr. V. Bhuvaneswari and Dr. T. Amudha, Conference Chairs - ICICA 2014 and faculty of Department of Computer Applications for taking necessary steps in organising this mega-event.
