Welcome to ICIS 2017. Welcome to Wuhan, China.

The 16th International Conference on Computer and Information Science (ICIS 2017) is sponsored by the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers (IEEE) and the International Association for Computer and Information Science (ACIS) in cooperation with Wuhan University, China.

The purpose of ICIS is to bring together researchers and practitioners from academia, industry, and government to exchange their research ideas and results and to discuss the state of the art in the areas of the conference. In addition, the participants of the conference will have a chance to hear from invited speakers Professor Chao Lu, Department of Computer Science, Towson University, USA, and Professor Haeng Kon Kim, Professor of IT Engineering, Catholic University of DaeGu, Korea.

I would like to thank the Conference Co-Chairs Xiaohui Cui, Wuhan University, China; and Simon Xu, Algoma University, Canada; the Program Co-Chairs Guobin Zhu, Wuhan University, China; and Shaowen Yao, Yunnan University, China; the Local Arrangement Chair Xiangdong Shi, Wuhan University, China; and the members of the Program Committee for their hard work. And most importantly, we would like to thank all the authors for sharing their ideas and experiences through their outstanding papers contributed to the conference. We hope that ICIS 2017 will be successful and enjoyable to all participants.
