Message from the Program Chairs
ISCMI 2015

Dear Participants,

It is indeed, our privilege to hand over the proceedings of ISCMI15 to all of you. We hope that you will find its contents interesting, stimulating & educative.

Shortlisting of papers is always a tough job. The problem gets compounded when most of the papers report very interesting pieces of research works. Sometimes, the hard decisions had to be taken, keeping in view of the guidelines, as put forward by the General Chair. Although very rigorous review process resulted in elimination of some very interesting projects, there is absolutely no room for the corresponding authors to feel disheartened.

Our hearty congratulations go to the authors of the accepted papers. The shortlisting of these papers clearly speak volume of the high quality of scientific work that they have carried out & reported. We firmly believe that this recognition will surely encourage them to pursue their research with more vigor in the coming days.

Albeit felt strenuous at some point of time, overall we enjoyed the job to a great extent. We are thankful to the IPC members, who, despite having a no. of commitments, submitted their review findings on time. Without their cooperation, we could not have moved even an inch and the publication of these proceedings would never have materialized. We end by thanking the General Chair, Dr. Suash Deb, ISCMI15, who entrusted us with this very important piece of responsibility.

Thank you all.
