

Message from the Organizing Chair

The University Mentouri of Constantine is honored to welcome the first International Workshop on Advanced Information Systems for Enterprises (IWAISE) in the picturesque city of Constantine, with a number of high and long bridges and a viaduct crossing the ravine.

Constantine is also known for its two universities: the University Mentouri of Constantine and the Islamic University of El Amir Abdelkader. The University Mentouri of Constantine is located at the north of the plateau of Ain El Bey. Its futuristic architecture is the work of the well known Brazilian architect Oscar Niemeyer, the designer of Brasilia. Its administrative headquarter is situated in the central campus along the road which leads to the Mohamed Boudiaf Airport. The University Mentouri of Constantine is actually considered as one of the biggest African and Arabic University (about 62500 students). It offers almost all the graduation and post graduation options. The University Mentouri of Constantine is the head office of the higher education establishment regional conference of East Algeria. In addition of teaching and research activities, the University Mentouri of Constantine has developed many partnerships with important companies like SONELGAZ, ENMTP, PMO.
