Keynote Speaker
Service Engineering: Linking Business and IT

Tiziana Margaria, Universität Postdam
Bernhard Steffen, Universität Dortmund

Abstract
Service-oriented design has long driven the development of the telecommunications infrastructure and applications, especially intelligent network services. Applying the same principles of domain specificity, virtualization, loose coupling, and seamless vertical integration to business processes has the potential to lead to a new generation of personalized, secure, and highly available Web services.

http://doi.ieeeecomputersociety.org/10.1109/MC.2006.355